

Changes to your employment?

Wondering how they will affect your super entitlements?

A change in your employment circumstances can be unsettling, particularly when it could affect your superannuation and future retirement lifestyle.

It is important that you have all the information you need when considering changes that could affect your super. With this in mind, we have created this information sheet designed to advise you of the services offered by RBF when considering a Workplace Renewal Incentive Program (WRIP) payment.

RBF Enquiry Line

The RBF Enquiry Line can provide you with information on your RBF membership and the value of your RBF benefits. They can also assist with any other questions that you may have in relation to your RBF membership. You can contact the RBF Enquiry Line on 1800 622 631 Monday to Friday between 8am and 7pm.

Member Access website

Members can log onto RBF Member Access website at any time to view their personal details including scheme type and current benefit. If you need assistance in registering or logging on to Member Access you can contact the RBF Enquiry Line on 1800 622 631.

You will need to have your membership type, member number and date of birth and we also need to have a valid email address on file.

Member Benefit Statements

You can access a copy of your RBF Member Benefit Statements via Member Access.

Fact sheets

The following fact sheets, which explain the benefits payable to RBF members, are available on the RBF website:

- ▶ Contributory Scheme - Resignation benefits for members under preservation age
- ▶ Contributory Scheme - Retirement benefits for members over preservation age

You should ensure that you read these fact sheets to obtain a thorough understanding of your RBF entitlements.

RBF presentations

RBF can provide information sessions to guide you through our processes. Sessions can include:

- ▶ the impact of WRIPS on your RBF benefit;
- ▶ how to use the Member Access website.

More information

In most cases you will be able to get the answers to your questions using the above services; however there may be situations where you need more information and you should contact your payroll officer.
