

Offences of licensees, permit holders and their staff

The sale, supply, promotion and consumption of alcohol in Tasmania and related offences are regulated by the Liquor Licensing Act 1990. The following table summarises the offences relevant to licensees, permit holders and staff working in the service of alcohol. The table is a guide only and the relevant section of the Act should be referred to for further information.

The maximum amount payable for each offence is expressed in the Act as penalty units. The dollar value of one penalty unit is $157<sup>1</sup> (as at 1 July 2016).
